Introduction

The Joseph L. Brechner Research Center in the Orange County Regional History Center houses the special collections of the Historical Society of Central Florida. These collections document nearly 200 years of Central Florida's history from the 1820s to the present.

The Research Center was created with a donation from Marion Brody Brechner in honor of her husband, Joseph L. Brechner, a prominent journalist, community leader, and freedom of information advocate.

The archival collection consists of over 300 cubic feet of primary source materials including personal and company papers. The photographic collection is home to over 16,000 photographs and postcards. Finally, the research collection includes more than 5,000 library volumes, a map collection, and vertical files.

The following is a listing of the genealogical materials available for use by researchers at the Joseph L. Brechner Research Center. This is not a comprehensive list, and due to the nature of the collections should be considered a living document that is constantly growing and changing. We hope that you find this information useful in your search for family history.

Record of Building Permits

The permit books span the years 1906-1947. Each entry includes the permit number, date, name of owner, name of contractor, kind of building, kind of roof, number of stories, for what purpose the permit was issued, lot, block, cost of improvements, fee, and additional remarks if necessary. The books are arranged alphabetically and then chronologically within each letter section. Unfortunately, the actual permits no longer exist.
