At the History Center, the New Year Arrives Full of Imagination

Opening January 17, Animationland Includes Feature on Disney Studio

January brings something new, something beloved, and plenty to explore at the Orange County Regional History Center. Our newest special exhibition, Animationland, invites visitors into a hands-on world of storytelling and creativity, while also celebrating a remarkable local chapter in animation history – the groundbreaking studio that operated at Disney-MGM Studios from 1989 to 2004. Animationland follows the popular Orlando Collected, which has been extended through the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. holiday weekend. That gives visitors a three-day opportunity to enjoy both major exhibitions with a single museum admission. Plus, our Lunch & Learn program takes a swing into the area's long and fascinating golf history. Learn more at TheHistoryCenter.org/Events.

Extended! Orlando Collected

Now on Display through Sunday, January 19, 2026

Created in honor of Orlando's 150th anniversary, this love letter to the city and its citizens tells the story of those 150 years through 150 objects. Don't miss this last opportunity to see the exhibition the Orlando Sentinel dubbed one of the "101 Things to Love about Central Florida (2025)." The extension of Orlando Collected coincides with the opening of our next special exhibition, Animationland, which means visitors can see both over the Martin Luther King Jr. holiday weekend.

New Special Exhibition: Animationland

On Display from Saturday, January 17, through Sunday, May 3, 2026

Step into a world where imagination takes center stage at the History Center's new special exhibition, Animationland. Meet Tracey the pencil dog and her quirky crew – Rooth, Drop, Inky, Uno, and Kari – as they invite visitors on a fantastically immersive journey into the art and science of storytelling. Families and fans of all ages can dive into hands-on activities such as storyboarding, sketching, and stop-motion filmmaking while discovering how animated features are brought to life.

And that's just the beginning. Our presentation also celebrates a remarkable local chapter in animation history, Drawing Magic: Walt Disney Feature Animation Florida, which explores the groundbreaking studio that operated at Disney-MGM Studios from 1989 to 2004. Join us to learn, imagine, and be inspired by the limitless world of animation!
